THE PENITENTIARY.

Legislative Committee Visit the Canon City Institution.

Warden Hoyt Makes a Statement of the Prison's Wants.

Appropriations for Various Improvements Recommended.

A Resolution Passed Complimenting Hoyt's Administration.

Legislators at Canon City.

CANON CITY, January 28.—The committee appointed by the seventh general assembly to investigate the state institutions of Colorado left Denver last night in a special car for Canon City to inspect the state penitentiary. The [illegible] the legislators arrived in this city at 3 a. m. The members of the senatorial committee on state institutions are as follows: Cochrane, chairman, Poole and Noble. The house committee specially appointed to inspect the penitentiary consisted of the following representatives: King, chairman, Price, Prince, Phillips, Wilson, Vigil and Swift. Penitentiary Commissioner Nichols also accompanied the committee. Immediately after breakfast at the residence of Warden Hoyt the joint committee went into session in the prison chapel.

On motion of Mr. Price, Senator Cochrane was chosen chairman and Thos. H. Bates, clerk of the house penitentiary committee, secretary. On motion of Senator Poole, Warden Hoyt was invited to make a statement to the committee as to the wants of the institution for the next two years. Mr. Hoyt took the annual report of the penitentiary commissioners wherein they gave the estimates of appropriations needed for the next two years. He agreed with their recommendation that the salary of the chaplain be increased from $[illegible] to $500 per annum and also in all other items mentioned in the total of $[illegible], with the exception that he thought the $[illegible] recommended for the purchase of land for a garden, the $10,000 for the construction of irrigating ditches and the $5000 for the purchase of coal lands might be dispensed with for the present, providing the state is not able to make the appropriation at this time. But he favored the purchase of this land and the construction of the ditches at the earliest possible time.

Mr. Hoyt, in addition to the commissioners' report, recommended the appropriation of $5000 for repairing the slopes, and was especially earnest in his recommendation for an appropriation of $[illegible] for a new cell house and sleeping rooms, stating that the prison now was crowded to its utmost capacity, there being only [illegible] cells for 420 convicts, making it necessary for two prisoners to be placed in over one third of the cells. He estimates the number of convicts for the next two years at six hundred. He strongly advocates the passage of a law making the term of office of the warden six years when his time shall expire [illegible] appointed. At the expiration of his term of office he shall be compelled to settle his accounts in full with the state for his two years' appropriation. He recommended the appointment of a [illegible] board of survey whose duty [illegible] shall be to make an inventory of all the property of the prison and also to [illegible] and order sold or destroyed all property that is unserviceable. He said that there are now on the books of the prison $10,000 or $12,000 worth of accounts that are uncollectable and worthless, and he recommended that the legislature wipe them out of existence.

In reference to the proposed irrigating ditches the warden stated that the entire work could be done by convict labor and that the only expense to which the state would be put would be for the powder, tools and [illegible]. There are now 200 men [illegible] to be put on the work, which when completed will water from 20,000 to [illegible] acres of the finest agricultural lands in the state. The sale of water from this ditch would become a source of perpetual revenue to the state which is roughly estimated at $[illegible] per annum. He further stated that the 200 men he could use on the construction of the canal are now employed on work that is unproductive to either the prison or the state, and in view of the increasing number of convicts the state should at once provide some means of employment for them. He said: "If the state will purchase this 20,000 or 30,000 acres of land and construct this ditch by working the convicts upon the land the revenue from it would be sufficient to [illegible] the expenses of the [illegible]."

At the conclusion of Mr. Hoyt's remarks the committee took a recess, after which they visited the prison.

They went through all the departments and found them in a most excellent condition and under thorough discipline. The committee then repaired to the warden's office where they heard Commissioner Nichols advocate the passage of the [illegible] senate bill No. 20. The committee then discussed at some length the question of recommending the passage of the bill making an appropriation for the irrigating ditches. While they took no definite action on the matter, the members of the committee appeared in favor of it. A resolution was adopted complimenting in the highest terms Warden Hoyt upon his successful administration of the affairs of the penitentiary and especially upon the neat and [illegible] manner in which the grounds and buildings are kept and upon the [illegible] of discipline. The committee then [illegible] executive session to hear [illegible] from three prisoners who asked [illegible] their cases [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] this afternoon the bill recently [illegible] for the establishment of a board of pardons was discussed. They [illegible] the establishment of such a board [illegible] the present bill which provides that it shall be composed of state officers with the warden as an ex-officio member. They favor appointing as members of this board three reputable nonpartisan citizens who are not [illegible] holding official position. The inmates of the penitentiary are very anxious that a bill providing for the latter should pass the present assembly.

[illegible]

Huntington Heard.

WASHINGTON, January 28.—C. P. Huntington [illegible] Central Pacific [illegible] was heard to-day by the senate committee on Pacific roads [illegible]

Still No Choice.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., January 28.—The [illegible] for United States senator was kept up in both houses to-day with [illegible] result. Delegate Sheldon alleged that an attempt had been made to bribe him to vote for [illegible] candidate for senator. Much discussion followed and a committee of investigation was appointed.

Postoffice Classification.

WASHINGTON, January 28.—The postmaster general has sent to the chairman of the house committee on postoffices and post roads the proposed plan for the classification of the clerks in all the first and second class postoffices. The general effect of this classification of the present force it is said would be to increase the aggregate of salaries about $[illegible].

Boulanger's Victory.

PARIS, January 28.—Political correspondence referring to Boulanger's victory says: In diplomatic circles here the election is regarded as a sure symptom of a coming change of system in the government of France. No immediate danger is feared as regards international complications as it is believed the internal discussion will prevent external entanglements.

Vance's Eye Removed.

WASHINGTON, January 28.—Senator Vance to-day had one of his eyes removed. He has been suffering severely for some time and his physicians have not been able to ascertain the direct cause of the trouble which took the form of separation of the retina from the ball of the eye. The operation was successfully performed and the senator is resting comfortably.

Woman Suffrage.

WASHINGTON, January 28.—The house committee on judiciary held a special meeting to-day to hear the addresses from members of the Woman Suffrage association in support of the amendment to the constitution of the United States granting the elective franchise to women. Among the speakers were Susan B. Anthony, Elizabeth Beecher Hooker, Rev. Olympia Brown, Mrs. Colby, editor of the Woman's Journal, and others.

Italy Wants Peace.

ROME, January 28.—Parliament was opened to-day by King Humbert. In his speech the king alluded to the bills which would be introduced by the government [illegible]. The visit of the Emperor of Germany had he thought proved the depth of Germany's attachment to Italy. In conclusion the king said: "Italy will continue to work for the peace which all desire and which I [illegible] will be kept by us."

Big Fire in Duluth.

DULUTH, January 28.—Fire was discovered in the Grand Opera house shortly before 2 o'clock this morning. It was soon beyond control although the whole fire department was early on the spot. At 3:30 the building was a total loss. A row of frame buildings next to the opera house were in great danger, but all were saved except the postoffice, which was consumed. The total loss will reach $[illegible], insurance $[illegible].

Prominent Republican Arrested.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., January 28.—Captain J. S. McDonald, a prominent republican politician of this city, was arrested to-day by Deputy United States Marshal Van Buren on a capias issued by the United States court now in session at Parkersburg. He is charged with having purchased the vote of one Dick Hardwick of this county at the last election for two dollars and all the whisky he could drink. The prisoner will be taken to Parkersburg to-morrow. A number of others will be arrested shortly on similar charges.

Robertson Wins His Suit.

WASHINGTON, January 28.—The supreme court of the United States to-day delivered an opinion in the customs suit of Robertson, the collector of the port of New York, vs. Perkins, an importer. The suit was brought to determine the rate of duty on "crop ends" of Bessemer steel rails. The collector of the port assessed a duty of 45 per cent on the importer, under the tariff provision for steel not specially enumerated or provided for. The court concurs in this assessment. The importer contended that "crop ends" were dutiable at only 20 per cent, the same as unwrought metal, as they are not fit for use without being remelted.

Cabinet Difficulties.

NEW YORK, January 28.—A Washington special to the Post says: There have been [illegible] that there is a sharp difference of opinion in the cabinet on account of the Samoan complication. The latest form which these rumors have taken is that Secretary Whitney and Secretary Bayard may resign. Attempts which were made this afternoon to obtain authorized information on this subject were not successful. A United States senator says he is informed that there is much feeling on account of the Samoan matters and that the estrangement is thought to be of a very serious character. This senator says that the president holds Secretary Bayard responsible for the situation, while the friends of Secretary Bayard insist that the president has interfered in the affairs of the state department and is wholly responsible.

Protest from New Mexico.

WASHINGTON, January 28.—A memorial was presented to the senate to-day protesting against the admission of New Mexico as a state of the union. The memorial represents that it is not to the business interest of the residents of the territory [illegible] the desire of the [illegible] of New Mexico [illegible] citizens [illegible] that the territory should at the present time be admitted into the union of states. The petitioners say further that New Mexico is at present totally unfitted for the responsibility of statehood because the greater part of the population are unfamiliar with the English language and though honest and of good character are as a class people over whom designing and unscrupulous politicians may readily acquire power that might be wrongfully used. The petition also says that the character of the people of the territory has been such as to cause the greatest fear that if left to enact laws not subject to the reversal of congress the result would be a disgrace to the state.

SENTENCE COMMUTED.

Executive Clemency Exerted in Behalf of James D. Fish.

The Ten-Year Sentence Commuted to Five Years and Six Months.

His Advanced Age and Failing Health the Reasons.

Charges of Bribery Against Mitchell to be Investigated.

Sentence Commuted.

WASHINGTON, January 28.—The president has commuted the sentence of James D. Fish, formerly president of the Marine National bank of New York, who was convicted in April 1885 of misapplying the funds of that bank and sentenced June 27 1885, to ten years' imprisonment in the state prison in Auburn New York upon the first count of the indictment with the statement that judgement for a like punishment would be entered upon conviction had under other counts of the indictment. The president's endorsement in this case are as follows: "This convict is 70 years of age. Prior to his conviction he was trusted and respected by all who knew him and all his dealings and intercourse with his fellow men both in business and social life had been such as to secure their confidence and esteem. In the view I take of the application for his pardon, there is no occasion to refer to the nature of his offense nor to comment upon the evidence upon which his conviction rests, further than to suggest that this is a case in which the actual and willful intents to defraud depend upon influences somewhat uncertain. I have rarely, if ever, seen a petition for executive clemency signed so numerously as the one presented in this case by citizens of great respectability and high standing. The prisoner, since his conviction, has aided the administration of the criminal law by giving valuable testimony upon the trial of another offender, and he has endured his imprisonment thus far with all the fortitude and resignation possible and been scrupulously obedient to all prison rules and regulations. Medical proof produced before me fully establishes the fact that with his advanced age and serious disability he is by reason of his confinement physically and mentally fast failing, and I am satisfied that he will not survive his imprisonment if much longer extended. Every object sought to be obtained by the punishment of the crime will be accomplished in my opinion by commutation of the convict's sentence to imprisonment for a term of five years and six months with allowance of [illegible] for good conduct; such commutation is therefore granted."

State Legislature.

DENVER, January 28.—A little breeze was started in the legislature to-day by the introduction of a resolution by Representative Harris to investigate the charges of alleged bribery against Representative Mitchell, of Arapahoe county, in connection with his senatorial vote. It will be remembered that Mitchell refused to vote for Wolcott and voted for Tabor; and also that Mitchell's name was left out entirely in the making up of the house committees. The resolution which was adopted was as follows:

WHEREAS, The honesty and integrity of the house of representatives of this state has been called in question by the conduct of one of its members in connection with the late senatorial election; and

WHEREAS, There have been serious charges of corruption and bribery made against Thomas S. Mitchell, member from Arapahoe county, therefore be it

Resolved, That in order that this body may be purged of the stigma which has been cast upon it as a body, that it is the sense of the house of representatives of the general assembly that a full and impartial investigation of these charges be made, and to this end be it further

Resolved, That the committee on elections and appointments be and is hereby instructed to thoroughly investigate the conduct of said Mitchell with power to subpoena witnesses, and take testimony, and report in full to the house with their conclusions thereon.

Mr. Parrish moved that the resolution be adopted. Carried.

The members of the house were back in force this morning and went vigorously to business. More petitions in behalf of a soldiers' and sailors' home and in the interest of labor were presented. A large number of bills were reported from various committees, a good many of [illegible] referred to the committee of the whole. Over twenty new bills were introduced, but none were of very great general importance.

One of them proposed to regulate the charges of sleeping car companies, another to tax the property of those corporations, and yet another to fix the maximum rate to be charged by telegraph companies. There were some new bridge bills but no new county measures.

Affairs in the senate were very quiet to-day and the usual routine gone through with. A number of senators are off on a visit of inspection to the penitentiary and are not expected back until Wednesday. The bill of Senator Mouter providing bounties for scalps of wolves, coyotes, etc., barely escaped being killed. It was however finally passed by a majority of one. The bill makes the bounty on coyotes $1 and $10 on mountain lions. The senate committee of the whole passed bill No. 52, a bill for an act to amend an act entitled "an act to create and establish criminal courts in the counties of Arapahoe, Lake, Pueblo, etc." The judiciary committee had recommended its passage as amended.

Allison's Visit.

INDIANAPOLIS, January 28.—This has been rather an uneventful day politically. Senator Allison remained as the guest of General Harrison last night and departed for Washington this afternoon. Several correspondents chatted with Allison at the depot but he had little to say. Upon being told he was booked by some for the state department instead of the treasury he laughed heartily and said: "That is very good." He stated that within the next few days some important replies would be received by the president elect. He intimated that several cabinet officers had been very recently selected. He is also said to have let slip while conversing hastily with a [illegible] Moore was to have [illegible] paid his respects to the president-elect. He was met at the depot by [illegible] for the [illegible] portfolio.

Moore Still at Large?

INDIANAPOLIS, January 28.—Interest in the great Moore defalcation still [illegible] unabated. Current report now has it that the shortage will reach seven figures and that nothing short of a million will cover the hole in the surplus of the Connecticut Mutual company. The insurance company's representatives are now here, however, absolutely deny this and assert that the shortage will not run a particle above the first announcement. All sorts of startling rumors about Moore are constantly in circulation but there is little foundation for them. He remains quietly at home and it now seems probable he will not be arrested. It is even stated that the company will not enter into legal proceedings against him. He has turned over all his available property to make up their losses as far as possible. It is thought this represents about $100,000. Financial authorities here are at a loss to satisfactorily explain the success of Moore's method of embezzlement through such a long period as it was carried on. It transpires that Moore has looked to his family's welfare by placing a heavy insurance on his life. He is carrying not less than $85,000 in personal policies which cannot be seized by his creditors.

Ford's Resolution.

WASHINGTON, January 28.—In the house to-day Representative Ford of Michigan offered for reference to the committee on foreign affairs the following preamble and resolution:

"WHEREAS, Recent dispatches from Vice Consul Blacklock at Apia, Samoa, to the secretary of state and the accounts in the public press have conveyed the intelligence of great indignities which have been offered by representatives of Germany to American citizens and American interests in Samoa; and,

WHEREAS, In the correspondence transmitted by the president to congress April 2, 1888 touching on our rights in Samoa there appears a letter from the secretary of state to the British and German ministers asking the permission of their governments to make public the joint protocols of the Samoa conference held between said secretary and said ministers in the summer of 1885, which permission was refused; and,

WHEREAS, It is alleged that the publication of the protocols would show that Germany has violated treaty rights and obligations solemnly entered into with the United States, be it

Resolved, By the house of representatives that the secretary of state be requested to transmit to the house copies of all such protocols and memoranda of the proceedings of said conference if not incompatible with the public interests."

Horrible Accident.

NEW YORK, January 28.—A serious accident occurred on board the steamship Republic of the White Star line after her passengers were landed on the wharf at the foot of West Tenth street yesterday, four men being fatally and seven others seriously injured. The cause of the accident was the breaking of the furnace flues. An hour after the last of her twenty cabin passengers had left the wharf, just as the officers and employes were preparing to leave also, there was a sharp report and in an instant the stokers' room was filled with blinding, suffocating steam. So powerful was the current of the scalding vapor which came pouring out of the mouth of the furnace that the men who stood in its path were blown violently to the floor, where they lay shrieking and crying for some one to save them. The hot steam was eating away the flesh from their bones. The following is a list of the injured: James Borden, fireman; Samuel Ward, oiler; Patrick Hughes, stoker; James Doyer, sixth engineer; James Collins, fireman; Thomas McFarland, fourth engineer; James Ward, fireman and Trimmer, and John Leonard, trimmer. Second Engineer Yates and Fifth Engineer Ebbs were slightly burned. Dwyer, Collins, McFarland and Leonard are thought to be fatally injured.

Prisoners Escape.

ALAMOSA, Colo., January 28.—Word has just been received here that three prisoners in the county jail at San Luis have given leg bail and gotten out of the valley. On Saturday afternoon Sheriff Dave Gold allowed his prisoners the liberty of the town for a few hours. Young Caldwell, who was held for killing range cattle, and the Zimmermans, father and son, held for housebreaking and robbery, took advantage of this privilege and skipped. Cisceneros Francisco, a Mexican, held for assault, and other prisoners, did not try their chance for freedom. It is thought that the escaped prisoners went by wagon over Veta Pass. The sheriff sent a party in pursuit, but [illegible] trace of the [illegible] has been found.

Mrs. [illegible]'s Contract.

NEW YORK, January 28.—Mrs. Jas. G. Blaine, jr., this afternoon signed a contract with Manager Frohman of the Lyceum theatre, by which she engages herself as an actress for the term of three years. Her season will begin about the first of November next in this city, after which she will go on a tour.

Commerce Commissioners.

CHICAGO, January 28.—Inter state Commerce Commissioners Cooley and Morrison were in this city to-day on their way to St. Paul to meet the railway commissioners of Minnesota and will leave here to-morrow. In the meantime they are making a quiet investigation of railroad matters here.

No Bail.

NEW YORK, January 28.—Henry Ives and George Stayner were unsuccessful to-day in their efforts to induce friends to furnish $500,000 bail. They remained in the sheriff's office until late in the evening and were then taken to Ludlow street jail to pass the night.

Mining Property Sold.

BRECKENRIDGE, Colo., January 28.—The Or[illegible] mining property near this camp has been sold to Leadville capitalists for the handsome sum of $45,000. The terms of the sale provide for the payment of $10,000 down upon taking possession on the 1st of February.

There was a very interesting game of Rugby foot ball at the Athletic grounds yesterday between the College team and the Colorado Springs foot ball club. The game lasted for an hour and a half, and was very hotly contested. There has been considerable talk and ill-feeling in this city lately regarding the cheap stocks of bankrupt goods that are being brought in and sold by strangers. G. Price Boone, the enterprising clothing dealer, has adopted a system that will probably come as near settling this vexed question, as anything can. His advertisement on the second page this morning sets forth his intentions and it will be well to read it. Mr. Boone is a reliable merchant and means what he says.

Prof. H. C. Durgin's dancing academy is proving very popular and successful especially the Saturday afternoon class for children. There were thirty eight of the young people in attendance yesterday, and their dancing speaks louder than words in praise of the instruction they have received. They dance twelve different "round" dances, and are now being instructed in the "Society Movement," a variation of the waltz recently adopted by the Dancing Masters' association of the United States, and becoming very popular.

Items of Local and General Interest—Personal Mention

Mr. L. N. Johnson of Baltimore, Md., is registered at the Cliff.

Yesterday was like a summer day and there are signs of young grass sprouting in the lawns.

Mr. Alfred Ransford of New York arrived yesterday and registered at the Cliff. He expects to remain two months.

A supper given by the [illegible] school building tonight. A very [illegible] time is enjoyed.

It is rumored that [illegible] recently [illegible] he will shortly present [illegible] game he's absent.

Hon. H. H. Grafton and Mr. H. [illegible] returned [illegible] Denver. Mr. [illegible] health is much improved but he does not expect to enter actively upon his legislative duties for some days yet.

Owing partly to the pleasant weather and perhaps also to a growing interest, the Winkler concert yesterday afternoon brought out a larger audience than on previous occasions. Dr. Gower's playing was one of the most interesting features of the concert. He played no [illegible], but his work in the beautiful cello [illegible] of his own composition, and especially in the Beethoven trio, was characterized by his usual certainty and spirit, as well as by the most intelligent interpretation. Miss Robinson was heard with increasing pleasure at each successive appearance. Her very dramatic and sympathetic rendering of Gluck's aria from Orpheus could hardly have been excelled, and the two songs, with cello obligato, were thoroughly enjoyable. A bright little German song satisfied the demand for an encore. There are to be still two more concerts. The next one will probably take place on Monday, February 18th.

The Colorado Springs Base Ball association has begun to sign players for the season. Fitzgerald was signed yesterday and they expect to play Smith, Hunter, [illegible] and Lynch of the old club. [illegible] articles were signed by which the American association club from Kansas City plays a series of games in this city about the middle of March. The [illegible] will play several games in this state. There is no doubt but Colorado Springs will see better base-ball this year than ever before. It is thought the entire team will be signed by the end of next week. Bates will probably not play ball this year, but if he does it will be with Colorado Springs. Overtures have been made Wilson, but his intentions are not known. Mann will probably not play [illegible], but it is hoped to secure him if possible.

Bissie, [illegible]; J. W. Hansel, Chicago; J. K. Horning, W. H. Beattie, St. Joe; [illegible] Kansas City; M. F. Daly, Denver; W. Barwise, Pueblo; John F. [illegible]; Miss Cora Fallon; Chas. A. [illegible], St. Louis; Geo. A. Stough, [illegible], O.; W. E. Graner, Blooming[illegible]; G. W. Edyington, Kansas City.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Young Men's Republican club [illegible] night a committee consisting of [illegible] Woodruff, Brisbin and Kinsley, was appointed to make arrangements for the proposed banquet to be given at The Antlers on the evening of February 22d. [illegible] republicans are expected to be present and the young men will put forth every effort to make the occasion a success.

The traveling auditor of the Denver, Texas and Fort Worth road concluded his work of checking up the accounts of C. Harvey, the missing agent of the [illegible] in this city, on Saturday night. The officers of the road will not discuss the matter, but it is stated by good authority that his accounts are short about [illegible].

[illegible] of the Manitou Journal [illegible] a number of cuts and was [illegible] devoted to descriptions of the [illegible] that have been made at [illegible] and to the advantages of [illegible] as a winter resort. It is a very [illegible] edition, and the new manager of the Journal is making the paper [illegible].

[illegible] Wm. A. Harding, of Brooklyn, N. Y., professional accountant was in the city yesterday. He is an old friend of [illegible] of the Midland.

There was a small blaze near the Midland [illegible] last night but being so far [illegible] the [illegible] an alarm was not [illegible].

[illegible] Watson Griffith of the Denver [illegible] registered at The Antlers yesterday.

Of Interest to Cattlemen.

[illegible], January 28.—The supreme court of the United States to-day [illegible] a decision of considerable importance to the cattlemen of the west. [illegible] Kimmish, plaintiff in error, [illegible] Ball and Henry [illegible]. The case involved the constitutionality of [illegible] of the state of Iowa, making a person having in his possession within [illegible] any Texas cattle which have [illegible] north of the southern [illegible] of Missouri and Kansas liable for damages that may accrue from [illegible] them to run at large [illegible] thereby spreading what is [illegible] Texas fever. The two [illegible] the circuit court of the United States for the southern district were divided in opinion and the case was sent [illegible] for final decision with the record [illegible] that the case had been decided [illegible] the plaintiff, on the ground that the Iowa statute was an interference with inter state commerce and also in conflict with a constitutional provision giving [illegible]. [illegible] Iowa [illegible] State [illegible] Court. [illegible]

Morton's Verdict.

WASHINGTON, January 28.—Secretary [illegible] from Captain Mullan [illegible] U. S. S. Nipsic, dated Apia [illegible], giving a detailed account of the occurrences on that island [illegible] December [illegible], the date of his report to the department, and covering the period of [illegible] between the natives and the Germans and of the alleged insults to the American flag. A copy of the report will be furnished to the secretary of state and will probably be transmitted to congress the latter part of this week together with the correspondence received on Saturday from Acting Consul General Blacklock on the same subject. It is reported as likely that the president will have something more to say on the subject when he sends to congress the correspondence which has taken place since his last message.

A Menace to the Republic.

PARIS, January 28.—M. Joubinal has [illegible] the government in the chamber of deputies this afternoon in regard to the measures to be adopted to check the spread of Boulangism. Up to 3:30 p. m. but few persons have gathered outside the chamber and nothing noteworthy has occurred. In government circles it is considered that the election of Boulanger menaces the republic. Ninety thousand conservatives and 150,000 republicans having voted for him. One minister speaking of the situation quoted the words of Metternich: "We should take everything seriously but nothing tragically."

Stock Market.

NEW YORK, January 28.—The stock market was again very dull to-day except at the opening and at the close. The prices on an average were higher than the final figures of Saturday. The first prices were generally from ⅛ to ½ per cent higher than Saturday's final figures in sympathy with the higher market for Americans in London. The close was active and strong generally, at the best prices of the day. Governments were quiet but strong. Petroleum opened at 87½, but after the first sales the market became dull and closed steady.

Manager of THE GAZETTE.

All the Denver papers are fighting for reform, and they are all fighting each other. It is a pity that their jealousy of each other will not permit them to unitedly advocate some of the measures that are so much needed.

Ben Butterworth, of Cincinnati, made a sensation in the house yesterday by an attack on the provisions in one of the appropriation bills that practically requires that steam presses should be given up in the treasury department for the printing of bank notes. Printing by these steam presses instead of by hand, saves the government one hundred and two thousand dollars annually. To prevent the use of steam presses, the appropriation bill provides that one cent a thousand impressions shall be paid. This practically rules out the use of the steam press, as the royalty by contract is one dollar a thousand. The labor union is said to be at the bottom of the agitation to prevent the use of the steam presses. It is argued that they do not do sufficiently good work. But on the other hand, both the secretary of the treasury and the chief of the bureau of engraving and printing say that the work is abundantly good enough. Ben Butterworth made a sensation in the house on Wednesday by attacking this part of the appropriation bill. He charged that the appropriation was drawn in this way to [illegible] the labor organizations, and he eloquently and earnestly protested against it. In referring to the Knights of Labor, he said: "It runs around this hall that whenever legislation is wanted by certain organizations in this country, we are to do it; and we are not only to do it, but we are to hunt for reasons to do it. This brought down the house. If the secretary of the treasury and the chief of the bureau of engraving and printing think that the steam presses do the work well enough there is no use in the government wasting a hundred thousand dollars at the request of the labor organization. It would be much better expended in a public building at Colorado Springs.

INSTITUTE FOR THE DEAF AND BLIND.

The visit of the legislative committee to the Deaf Mute institution has drawn attention to the needs of this very worthy institution. The board of managers [illegible] to ask for a liberal appropriation to give proper and decent accommodations. The present building has a capacity for about fifty, while the enrollment this fall has been eighty-eight and there are applications from seventy more children who should be in the school. To provide accommodations for the number now in the institution in excess of its proper capacity and for those who cannot now be admitted, it is proposed to ask for an appropriation from the legislature for the following buildings:

A school house, whose basement shall be used for mechanical departments; the main story for a school room and the upper story for an assembly hall, in which there shall be entertainments of various kinds for the children. At present the only assembly room is in the basement, and is only twenty feet square.

Second, a steam heating plant with laundry above. The building is now heated with stoves which is both expensive and dangerous. The building has taken fire some three or four times already. The arrangements for escape are very imperfect. The danger is increased by the fact that some of the children cannot see and the others cannot hear, so that the difficulty of saving life in a fire would be greatly increased. The dormitories have no stoves whatever, for the simple reason that there is not room enough in them for even a stove.

Third, a kitchen and dining room. The basement will be used as a storage room, the main room for a dining room and the upper part for the domestics' departments. The present dining room is so crowded that there is not room to seat the eighty-eight children now enrolled.

There ought to be still a fourth building erected to be used for a hospital in case of contagious disease. There is no place now to which any child who is ill with a contagious disease may be removed. The present building will then be used very largely as a dormitory. It is poor at best. The building was put up too cheaply, and lacks many features necessary for a well conducted institution. One of the members of the legislature said it ought to be "struck by lightning," while Governor Adams says "It is a disgrace to the state." The plan as suggested seems to be a wise one; for in any event, it would be well to make the buildings separate from the main building. When the state can afford it, the main building can be torn down, and a building of a more substantial and convenient character can be erected in its place.

While institutions for the deaf and blind are treated in all other states as liberally as institutions for the insane or the industrial schools. The little state of Maryland has expended two hundred and fifty thousand dollars on the deaf mute institutions, while California has expended three hundred and fifty thousand dollars. During the past six years the different special appropriations for the state institutions have been $223,000 for the Asylum for the Insane, $184,000 for the Industrial school, $88,500 for the penitentiary and only $17,000 for the deaf and blind. It is unfortunate that so large a drain is now being made upon the state for the purpose of building the state capitol. We ought to put the benevolent institutions of the state on a sound solid basis before we afford the luxury of a state house. Rooms can be rented for much less than the interest on the amount of money which will be put in the state house.

If the appropriation is not granted it will be necessary to send home a part of those now at school. Not only should such an exigency not be considered possible, but immediate measures should be taken to provide for those who are seeking admission. The mute and blind because of their peculiar affliction are likely to become paupers or criminals if not properly educated. If educated they make useful, self-supporting members of society. It was not very long ago that the deaf mutes were classed with imbeciles. But since Dr. Howe, of Boston, made a special study of this subject and demonstrated that deaf mutes could be taught as well as other children, there has been a wonderful change in the condition of this unfortunate class. It is always an open question whether any good can be done to the children admitted to the industrial school. In these cases all that is done is to keep these children from mischief. But in the case of the deaf mutes, the state knows that it does not simply take care of them for a brief time, but it also prepares them for a life of usefulness and honor. We are sure if the legislature will look into the needs of this institution that the managers will receive an appropriation equal to their demands. It is largely a question of convincing the members of the true state of the facts. We trust the state press will kindly take hold of this, for every community is interested in having a convenient place for the care and education of these unfortunate children.

The Colorado School Journal has the following pleasant word for Colorado college:

> Something has happened at Colorado Springs. For year after year since its inception Colorado college has been in the minds of the people, a dim, [illegible] struggling, weak, private school. Lately one hears of a live college. The public print refers to it as an institution. At meetings of educators [illegible] representatives are met who call attention to the existence of the college. S[illegible] power, we trust adequate to the [illegible] has been felt. Whether the managing board, the new president, or the people of the city constitutes this force, matters not. The truth is, that no point in our state ever could [illegible] for the [illegible] growth and greatness of a real college, as does Colorado Springs. It is [illegible] the point where the [illegible] and stock [illegible] and [illegible] of culture, wealth and leisure will [illegible] gather. With the proper [illegible] it can be supposed that President Slocum is that proper [illegible] Colorado college with the backing that it is certain to receive from friends east and west has a certain brilliant future. Nominally in the hands of a religious denomination it will have the advantage of [illegible] the most liberal, broad and [illegible] denomination [illegible] educational college interest in the United States. Once nationalized as an independent, liberal and successful college-giving power [illegible] among the old well reputed institutions of our country a [illegible]. Every citizen of whatever creed will be glad to know of the revivifying of this the oldest [illegible] institution of high grade in the state.

A Just Recognition.

Denver Republican.

All of Colorado's educational institutions are in a good condition, and this is especially true of the Mute and Blind Institute in Colorado Springs. This is, we believe, one of the best institutions of the kind in the west. Great care is taken in the training of pupils, and the management in general is conducted in an intelligent way.

Fiftieth Congress.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, January 28.—Among the memorials presented in the senate this morning and referred, was a protest from the citizens of New Mexico against the admission of that territory as a state.

On motion of Blair the army nurses pension bill was taken up and an amendment to it passed. It allows a pension of $25 per month to all women nurses during the late war prior to August, 1865, who were approved by Miss Dix, superintendent of women nurses, or by her authorized agent, or who were specially appointed by the surgeon general or other power of United States authority who performed six months' service or were disabled and honorably discharged. Those who are now receiving less pension under special acts are entitled to the benefits of this act.

The senate then proceeded to the consideration of the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill.

The following amendments reported by the senate committee on appropriations were agreed to, an appropriation of $15,000 to be paid to the government of Japan to be distributed among the families of the Japanese subjects who were accidentally killed or injured by the explosion of shells from the United States steamer Omaha, inserting an item of $3000 for the consul general at Apia, Samoan islands; transferring the consulate at Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, from class five ($2000) to class four ($2500) and providing for a consul of the same class for Paso del Norte.

Gibson moved to insert the word "ambassadors" instead of the words "envoys extraordinary and ministers," as applied to France and Germany or Great Britain and Russia.

Plumb opposed the amendment.

Reagan spoke in favor of abolishing the entire diplomatic service.

Sherman advocated the amendment.

Plumb argued in favor of the abolition of the whole diplomatic system and made a sarcastic allusion to Phelps's coming home and to the Sackville matter.

Evarts advocated the amendment.

Hoar did not believe in the notion of the senator from Kansas that the United States representatives were to go about the world with their pantaloons stuffed in their boots and with waistcoat off and tagged trousers held up by one suspender. [Great laughter.]

Stewart argued in favor of the amendment. He did not believe in passing a law that would give any national countenance or encouragement to the breeding of dudes who, when abroad, lost their [illegible] or the English language and were a disgrace to the country.

Hale reported the statement made to him by an American minister about the difficulties encountered in obtaining an audience with foreign ministers on account of the "precedence" given to ambassadors.

Without a vote on the amendment the senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

On motion of Long of Massachusetts the senate bill was passed increasing the pension of soldiers or sailors who have lost both hands to $100 per month.

On motion of Ermentrout, of Pennsylvania the senate resolution was agreed to providing for a joint meeting of the two houses of congress on the 13th of February for the purpose of counting the electoral vote.

The committee on the District of Columbia, through its chairman, Hemphill, of South Carolina, made a struggle to secure the floor which the rules of the house accord to it on the second and fourth Monday of each month but the committee on appropriations, under the leadership of Randall proved too formidable an antagonist and the house declined to consider the District business and went into committee of the whole with Dockery, of Missouri, in the chair, on the sundry civil appropriation bill.

The pending amendment appropriating $250,000 for investigating the best method of irrigating the arid regions was agreed to.

On the point of order raised by Kilgore, of Texas, the clause providing for a congressional committee to institute an inquiry into the condition of Alaska was ruled out of the bill.

McComas, of Maryland, offered an amendment appropriating $50,000 for the education of children of the school age in Alaska without reference to race.

Dockery, of Missouri, asked unanimous consent to offer as an amendment the provision for a congressional inquiry which had been ruled out.

Dunham, of Illinois, objected, characterizing the proposed inquiry as a junketing trip.

Cannon, of Illinois, resented this characterization.

Dunn, of Arkansas, said he was convinced that the condition of affairs in Alaska was not so bad as represented.

McComas' amendment was agreed to and pending final action on the bill the committee rose and the house adjourned.

Trouble in France.

PARIS, January 28.—The cabinet held a meeting this morning and discussed the measures to be adopted in the event of any disorders arising. It is stated that a majority of the ministers are in favor of dissolving the chambers and holding a general election in April but they wish first to have the electoral law modified in order to prevent plebiscitary proceedings. Some members of the chamber of deputies advocate strong anti-Boulangist measures by the government. They urge that M. Campenon be asked to form a cabinet. President Carnot held a conference this morning with many men prominent in political life. It is the president's intention to await events and to accept all the responsibility the situation involves. He will not abandon the presidency until the expiration of his term of office. M. Floquet has decided to resign or to take any other action that the chamber may consider that the interests of the public demand.

To Hang.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., January 28.—Mrs. Hannah Burrows, who stabbed and killed her husband in August last while he was lying in bed and who last week pleaded guilty of the crime, was to day sentenced by Judge Hare to be hanged.

Boulanger's First Attendance.

PARIS, January 28.—Boulanger has announced his intention to attend the session of the chamber on Tuesday. The chamber to day passed a credit of 42,000,000 francs, to be expended in improving the military posts. Floquet proposes to introduce on Thursday an anti-plebiscite measure.

Snow fell at Pensacola, Fla., yesterday for the second time in 25 years.

People of El Paso County!

The City of Colorado Springs is flooded with alleged Bankrupt Stocks of Clothing and Furnishing Goods.

You who have patronized my place know that I carry nothing but Reliable Goods. But as long as these bankrupt dealers infest this city I am determined to buck against their prices—not against their goods; and as long as they stay here I will sell you good reliable goods for less money than you can buy an inferior article from them.

All I ask is that you come in and see my prices before buying from alleged bankrupt sales, for I intend SLAUGHTERING PRICES. No reasonable offer for goods will be refused while there is a bankrupt stock of clothing in our city.

G. P. BOONE,
Next Door to the Exchange Bank.

Remember, I will refund your money if my prices are not lower and MY GOODS BETTER than any alleged bankrupt stock.
